

---

John D. Soracco

Chief Logistician - Aviation Naval Supply Systems Command Weapon Systems Support

Mr. John D. Soracco currently serves as the chief logistician – aviation of Naval Supply Systems Command Weapon Systems Support. He is charged with overseeing the aviation supply chain and related services to the Naval Aviation Enterprise for parts needed to maintain critical weapon systems. He entered the Senior Executive Service in July 2021.

He retired at the rank of Captain after a 30-year career as a Supply Corps officer in the Navy. He began with his commissioning from Washington State University Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps program in 1990. He has served in a variety of aviation logistics positions, including sea tours aboard the frigate USS Jesse L. Brown (FF 1089); cruiser USS Vicksburg (CG 69); the guided missile frigate USS Lewis B. Puller (FFG 23); destroyer USS Kinkaid (DD 965); aircraft carrier USS Ronald Reagan (CVN 76); and served as supply officer, USS Abraham Lincoln (CVN 72). Shore assignments include force supply officer, Commander, Naval Air Force, U.S. Pacific Fleet; commanding officer, Defense Logistics Agency Distribution Center, San Diego, Calif.; operations branch head, spares program and policy, Office of the Chief of Naval Operations.

He holds a Master of Business Administration and a Master of Arts in National Security and Strategic Studies. Soracco is also a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Wharton Executive Developmental Program and Pennsylvania State University Smeal College of Business Executive Program Supply Chain Leadership. He is Level III Life Cycle Logistics certified and a member of the Defense Acquisition Corps.